ABOUT THE PROJECT

Name of Project : Production of Pampanga Food Mapping Book

Location : Central Luzon

Brief Description :

The Pampanga Food Mapping Book is a research and documentation initiative aimed at systematically identifying and recording the province's culinary heritage. By mapping traditional dishes, food sources, preparation methods, and key culinary figures, the project establishes a comprehensive reference material that highlights Pampanga's role as a major gastronomic destination in the Philippines. The book is developed through a mix of qualitative and ethnographic research methods, including fieldwork, interviews, and archival review, ensuring accuracy and cultural authenticity.

From a tourism perspective, the project supports the development of cultural and culinary tourism products by providing valuable content for tour design, promotional materials, and educational campaigns. It strengthens Pampanga's brand as the country's culinary capital and offers opportunities for local communities to participate in tourism activities through food-based experiences. The book also contributes to sustainable tourism by preserving intangible cultural heritage and encouraging responsible storytelling that promotes local pride and identity. Ultimately, it serves as both a tourism asset and a heritage preservation tool.
